(we know this as a people.) But, sir, it is principally and mainly for America herself, for the credit and character of our common country, that I hope to see this resolution pass! it is for our own unsullied name that I feel. What appearance on the page of history would a re-cord like this make, Mr. Chairman? 'In the cord like this make, Mr. Chairman? In the month of January, in the year of our Lord and Saviour, 1824, while all European Christendom beheld, with cold and unfeeling apathy, the unexampled wrongs and inexpressible misery of the Christians in Greece, a proposition was made in the Congress of the United States, almade in the Congress of the United States, almost the sole, the last, the great repository of human hope and of human freedom, the representatives of a nation capable of bringing into the field a million of bayonets, while the freemen of that nation were spontaneously expressing its deep-toned feeling, its fervent prayer for Grecian success, while the whole continent was raising, by one simultaneous emotion, solembly and anxiously supplicating and invoking the aid of Heaven to spare Greece and to invigorate her of Heaven to spare Greece and to invigorate her arms, while temples and senate houses were all resounding with one burst of generous feeling— (gentlemen may call it enthusiastic declamation if they please; would to God we could hear such declamation and the utterance of such feeling from them!)—in the year of our Lord and Saviour, that Saviour alike of Christian Greece and of us-a proposition was offered in the American Congress, to send a messenger to Greece, to inquire into her state and condition, with a expression of our good wishes and our sympathies—and it was rejected.' Go home, sympathies—if you can, to your conif you dare; go home, if you can, to your constituents, and tell them that you voted it down—stituents, and tell them that you countenances. meet, if you dare, the appalling countenances of those who sent you here, (I mean no defiance,) and tell them that you shrank from the declaration of your own sentiment—that you cannot tell how, but that some unknown dread,

WASHINGTON:

MONDAY AFTERNOON, SEPTEMBER 1.

Will our readers pardon us for to-day giving up our space almost exclusively to two subjects? We but seldom make apologies, but feel constrained to do so at present.

The affairs of Cuba are important, and the particulars we give are of a melancholy character; but let no one be depressed. The fortunes of war cannot be free from unwelcome

Of the fate of Lopez and his companions none can now speak with confidence; but whatever it may be, the cause is the same.

The sentiments of many of our newspapers have much surprised us. Some of their editers are worthy to wear the epaulettes of "Spain's royal idol," while others are so discreet as to be in readiness to shout aloud for joy should the revolution prove successful, though, at the present moment, they dare not utter a syllable one of them who believes that all the wealth of Spain could hire their free swords into her service? No. not one, not one!

The steamer ATLANTIC is in, as our telegraphic despatches inform us.

SOLICITOR OF THE TREASURY .- The Hon. John C. Clark, who has been absent a short time on a visit to his farm in the State of New York, returned to the city on Saturday evening. The return of this invaluable officer and esteemed gentleman is gratifying to his numerous and attached friends in the Metropolis.

LOPEZ AND GONZALES.—We have learned from good authority that arrangements have been made in this country by means of which five thousand men will in a very short time be placed on the Island of Cuba, subject to the command of leaders who need not to be tried. We could state the details of these arrangements were it

If the Lopez party have not been unfortunate. they will soon be reinforced and Cuba freed. Lopez and Gonzales, we perceive, are denounced in some of our newspapers. Let us not judge which they acted, consisting of letters from a vast number of the best and most prominent men of the island, pledging themselves to stand by any number of Americans who might come to their aid.

OUR CONSUL AT CUBA.—Until we receive full and complete information from Cuba, we shall forbear to comment upon the conduct of this either much abused or wretchedly culpable

The editor of the New Orleans Bee, a scholar, gentleman, and a thorough Whig, declares that there is but one opinion in that city on the Cuban question, and that it is folly to think of silencing the universal sentiment. Cuba must be free!

THE DRAMA.—See the advertisement headed National Hall. There will be a performance on Wednesday evening.

ROSSUTH.—This day, we believe, was set spart for the liberation of this exiled patriot. May favoring gales waft him to a land of freedon

The Whig convention at Bladensburg on entrday nominated Richard J. Bowie for Congrees, from the 10th district.

The Washington papers of this morning con-tain copious extracts from New Orleans papers of the 22d and 28d, giving not only facts, but the comments of those papers in relation to Cuba. We shall omit much of the latter as unimportant, and place before our readers as much of the former as we can obtain.

The "Empire City," it will be remembered, prived in New Orleans on the 21st ultimo from Cuba, and her news was of the same general tenor as that brought by the Cherokee to New York. The following letters tell too plainly their own story:

Letter from Adjutant Stanford.

HAVANA, August 18, 1851. DEAR HULING: We arrived on the Island of Cuba after the most horrible passage you can conceive of, cooped on board with four hundred or five hundred men.

We arrived on Sunday last, I believe—dates have almost forgotten. The next morning, Lopez, with General Pragay and all the com-manding officers, left us—I mean Crittender and his battalion. We heard nothing more of him for two days, when Crittenden despatched a note. He then requested that we should join him at a little town some six or eight miles off, leaving us in the mean time to take care of all the baggage, &c.

We started for him on Wednesday morning at 2 o'clock, and had proceeded only three miles when we were attacked by five hundred Spanish soldiers. In the first charge I received a very severe wound in the knee. We repulsed them, however. They made another charge and completely routed us. We spent two days and nights the most miserable you can imagine, in the chapparel, without any thing to eat or

We made the best of our way to the seashore, and found some boats, with which we put to sea. Spent a night upon the ocean, and next day, about 12 o'clock, were taken prisoners by the Habanero; were brought to Havana last night, and condemned to die this morning. We

Good by, and God bless you. I send the Masonic medal, enclosed in this, belonging to my father. Convey it to my sister, Mrs. P——n, and tell her of my fate. Once more, God bless STANFORD.

Letter from J. Brandt.

HAVANA, August 16, 1851. MY DEAR MOTHER: I have but a few moments to live. Fifty of us are condemned to be shot within a half hour. I do not value life, but deeply regret the grief it will cause you to hear of my death. Farewell, then, my dear of cimetars, and crowns, and crescents, gleamed before you, and alarmed you; and that you suppressed all the noble feelings prompted by religion, by liberty, by national independence, mother, sisters and all; we may meet again in another world. Think of me often; forget the causes I have given you for grief; remember only my virtues. Farewell, again, dearest mother, and believe me to be, your affectionate son,

Letter from Thomas C. James. SPANISH FRIGATE ESPERANZA, Harbor of Havana, August 15, 1851.

MY DEAR BROTHERS AND SISTERS: This is the last letter you will ever receive from your brother Thomas. In one hour more I will be launched into eternity, being now a prisoner, with fifty others, aboard of this ship, and under sentence of death. All to be shot! This is a hard fate, but I trust in the mercy of God, and will meet my fate manfully.

Think of me hereafter not with regret, but

My dear and affectionate Sisters and Brothers:
Before I die, I am permitted to address my last words in this world. Deceived by false visions, I embarked in the

Explain to my family that I have done nothing but what was instigated by the highest motives; that I die with a clear conscience; and, like a man, with a stout heart. I send my watch to you; it is for little Benny, my nephew Good bye. God bless you all!

Truly yours, GILMAN A. COOK.

From the New Orlean's Picayune, August 23. To the Citizens, of New Orleans. Not having been engaged in the cause of Cuba personally, I have forborne to inquire into the plan of operation further than has been common to all our citizens who took interest in

To-day, however, I have made the proper inquiry, to enable me to form an opinion as to what is to be done, and the conclusion to which I have come is, that if the citizens of New Orleans do not subscribe liberally, there is no prospect of any aid being furnished to the brave and gallant young men whose lives are now perilled in the mountains of Cuba. There is no time for delay. We have had one tale of blood and murder, and we may soon have another.

My object is, if possible, to save the remnan of the gallant band who defeated the forces of Gen. Enna, on the 13th inst., and marched into the interior on the 15th.

This we know from the official publications in Havana, and further all is doubt and uncertainty.

This, however, is certain, that the same mer This, however, is certain, that the same men who defeated Gen. Enns, and compelled him to send back to Havana for reinforcements, when they were only defended by works hastily thrown up around an old building, will be able to hold him at bay for some time when they reach mountains so well adapted to defence as those of Cuba are. This is more certain if the people of the country unite with them, which is confidently stated to be the case by correspondents from Havana, who, I am fully satisfied, have not made statements which they do not believe. believe.

But, fellow-citizens, after examining the position in a military point of view, I am satisfied that our friends and brethren will be finally overwhelmed by superior Spanish force if they do not receive assistance.

However anxious we may be to relieve those who are in danger, we must not hazard any more small detachments; we have had enough of that. Whatever is done must be done promptly and efficiently.

Whether any thing at all can be done depends upon you, men of New Orleans. There is no time to seek aid from a distance. There is no lack of men who burn to succor the surviving comrades of the slaughtered Crittenden, Kerr, and their brave companions. It I therefore plainly appeal to you to come forth generously and promptly. It will require a considerable sum to do any thing that you or I would sanction; for I say at once, that I will never consent that our noble young men shall again be hazarded with insufficient numbers and inefficient means. Felix Houston.

New Obleans, August 22, 1851.

The Mob. The Bee of the 22d publishes a particular ecount of the excitement and riot in that city. 'It is well known," says that paper, "that the newspaper styled La Union has been extremely ferocious in its advocacy of the Spanish cause, and in its denunciation of the Americans." It then states that "about three o'clock, p. m., some twenty-five or thirty persons proceeded to the office of La Union, in the Exchange alley, broke the doors open, and completely gutted the establishment. The types, cases, &c., were thrown into the street and demolished, and the press was broken and the fragments carried off. No violence whatever was offered to the compositors, who were present, and it does not appear that the editors and proprietors were on the ground." It is then related that a tavern, eigar store, St. Louis and Toulouse. When they reached the snot they broke open the door, and had just begun the work of destruction, when Recorder Genois and Captain Youenes arrived. and, by their joint exertions and remon strances. induced the mob to desist. No further violence was perpetrated beyond the removal of the sign and the tearing up of some of the papers and documents in the office." A crowd also "proceeded shortly afterwards to the Jenny Lind Coffee House, in Poydras street, owned by D. Casas, entered the premises, and gutted them completely." Two or three other acts of like character were committed, when the Mayor, Sheriff, and assistants, restored order, which has since been maintained.

The Picayune says : "The stimulus to disorder originally sprung out of a national feeling. in which everybody participated, but it was immediately turned by a class of low ruffians to purposes of mere wanton riot and plunder. And yet it is remarkable that, in the whole range of disorder, no personal injury was done or even threatened towards the owners of the shops upon which the violence fell. Not a single Spaniard was hurt, molested, or attacked in his person. Spaniards of known loyalty to their own government went about without being attacked. while the shops of other Spaniards were rifled. This shows how completely the riots were mere wanton acts of lawless ruffians, without any aim but that of mischief and plunder." PUBLIC FEELING IN NEW ORLEANS .- The Crescent of the 23d condemns emphatically the extravagant and foolish deeds of the excited nob, and says: Order reigns in New Orleans. The last wave of passion and excitement, beaten back by a solid sentiment of order, has sunk to rest, as public feeling flows steadily and strongly to the maintenance of order at home, and to an effec-tive vindication of outraged humanity in Cuba. All men of all classes manifest a disposition to aid the cause of Cuban freedom; and if this feeling be properly and promptly appreciated, liberal moneyed contributions will testify the sincerity of public and private sentiments.

We are of the class of American conservatives, and are as proud as we are sincere in our conviction. We are a conservative in our own view and definition, and not in the view or defi-nition of the fanatic or scoffer, who knows protaken prisoners yesterday; have not received our sentence yet, but no doubt we will all be shot before sunset. Lopes, the scoundrel, has deceived us; there is no doubt but all those reports about the Cubans rising were all trumped up in New Orleans. Lopes took nearly all his command and deserted us. We were attacked by some five or seven hundred of the Queen's troops the second day after we landed. Our first duty, our noblest labors, in the vindication of the indestructible principles of humanity—principles.

ciples defied and outraged in the Havana massacre. To have shot the command of the gallant Crittenden might have left the Spanish authorities some shelter of technical defence; to have mutilated the dead, and shamefully butchered and maltreated the dying; leave them none. The highest instincts of our nature, the most sacred principles of conservatism, demand that their barbarities should not be permitted to pass into precedents. We put in our protest, and approve its edents. We put in our protest, and approve

The True Delta says: "The feeling is equally natural and just, but when under cover of it bands of desperadoes assemble together, break into dwellings, plunder them of their contents, and into stores, the merchandise of which they scatter to the winds of Heaven or carry off in triumph, society is resolved into its original elements, and chaos is come again."

IMPORTANT INTIMATION !- The British Colonial Standard, in reviewing the tidings of the Cuban Revolution, reveals the wishes of Engand and the probable views of Spain in the natter, and concludes as follows:

"The Spanish government has shown, by its precautions against American invasion, that it will not lose Cuba so long as she can be preserved to the crown of Spain; and our conviction is, that before the Ministers of the Spanish Queen would surrender the island to a creole merican conspiracy, they would carry out the threat alluded to in the insurgent manifesto, and pronounce every slave in Cuba uncondi-tionally free. May this be the blessed result of the pronunciamento of Don Joaquin Aguero y

THE GOVERNMENT PUTTING DOWN A CUBA Expedition .- The New York Express, of Saturday afternoon, has the following:

Washington, August 30. The Government authorities here have to-day received information, which may be fully relied upon, that a formidable expedition for the insion of Cuba is fitting out in your city.

Stringent instructions to prevent it were sent on this morning to the several agents there. The persons engaged in this scheme are well known, but their intercessions will be of no

Nighly respectable citizens speaks for Hampton's VEGETABLE TINCTURE:

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray:—Gentlemen: My daughter having been afflicted for more than a year with the spinal disease, and having tried every remedy that was prescribed by some of our best physicians, without affording her any apparent relief, I fortunately was advised by a friend to try a bottle of "Dr. Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," which relieved her of her pain in less than twenty-four hours. I am pleased to say that since she took it she has been free from pain, and she is gradually gaining strength, which I attribute entirely to the restorative properties of this medicine. I believe if it were more extensively used, it would do more good in the removal of such diseases incident to the human family than what is usually prescribed.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,
Robert Kerr,
Principal Western F. H. School.
